

Step 4

Inventory Comparison

Business		Personal
Fact-finding	←=====→	Searching
Fact-facing	←=====→	Fearless
Truth	←=====→	Moral
Stock-in-trade	←=====→	Ourselves
Object:
Disclose damaged or unsalable goods	←=====→	Find flawed thinking processes
Get rid of promptly and without regret	←=====→	Get rid of promptly and without regret
Stock-in-trade that is damaged	←=====→	1. resentment 2. fear 3. harm done to others

This Step uses the words "searching," "fearless," and "moral" to describe our personal inventory. When Bill says "searching," he means the same thing as "fact-finding." When he says "fearless," he means the same thing as "fact-facing." When he says "moral," he just means "true." So, we are going to make a fact-finding, fact-facing, truthful, written inventory of our personal "stock-in-trade," just as we would if we were inventorying a business that we wanted to run profitably. Our selves are the stock-in-trade.
